

Only Edmonton Newspaper
Owned and Controlled
By Edmonton People

SIXTY-SECOND YEAR

Figure in Cabinet Changes

Pictured here are three of the principal figures in the Dominion cabinet changes announced last night by Prime Minister Mackenzie King. Left, above, is Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of National War Services, who succeeded Hon. J. T. Thorson, at right, below, as Minister of National War Services. Mr. Thorson has been named president of the Exchequer Court of Canada. At top right is Hon. J. E. Michaud, who resigned as minister of fisheries to become minister of transport in the re-organized cabinet.

F.D.R. SAYS:

Axis Criminals
To Be Punished

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today the United States was prepared to co-operate in establishing a United Nations commission, after the war, for the investigation of war crimes of the Axis and said it was the intention to mete out just and sure punishment to "ring-leaders" responsible for the organized murder of thousands of innocent persons and the commission of atrocities."

Victory Loan
To Be Success
Speaker States

The United Nation's story of the war to the present has been characterized by matchless heroism, handicapped by failure of production, John C. Diefenbaker, K.C., M.P., Prince Albert, Sask., told a capacity gathering of members of Edmonton's seven service clubs, and the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, at a joint rally at the Macdonald hotel Wednesday.

Mr. Diefenbaker was guest speaker at a joint meeting of the Kiwanis, Rotarians, Lions, Optimists, Rotarians, Commercial and Kinnamen, as well as members of the Chamber of Commerce, arranged to correlate the clubs' efforts in the forthcoming victory loan campaign. He stressed the need of more and more financial support in order that production can be stepped up until it reached a stage comparable with that in Great Britain. He stated that the deficiency of production failure through lack of dollars must end before a ruthless offensive can prevail and the war can be won.

The joint meeting was arranged through the co-operation of the service clubs with the Chamber of Commerce. Continued on Page 2, Col. 6.

R.C.A.F. to Handle
Northern Airports

CALGARY, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Care and administration of all airports in the Canadian part of the air-space route to Alaska will be handled by the Royal Canadian Air Force, Lt. Col. de Coteau, deputy minister of national defence for air, said in an interview here yesterday.

Skeleton crews of airmen already are on the job at all points and complete staffs are expected to move in by Nov. 15, said the minister who arrived in Calgary by plane yesterday after an aerial inspection tour over the route which skirts the Alaska highway. Construction has begun on hangars at all the airports to house the Canadian airmen who will staff the airports in winter and summer for the use of both Canadian and United States planes flying to Alaska, he said.

Today's
War Moves

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

Japanese landings and aerial attacks on Guadalcanal island, strategic American-held position in the Solomon group, promise a possible show-down fight in that corner of the South Pacific.

Action at Guadalcanal is accompanied by an Australian advance in New Guinea, which is part of the same theatre of operations. The Japanese retreat over the Owen Stanley mountains in New Guinea, after they had made an obvious attempt to capture the important base of Morotai on the southeastern coast opposite Australia, is difficult to evaluate.

15 Norwegians
Killed by Nazis;

2-Day Toll 25

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Fifteen persons were executed by the Germans at Trondheim in Norway, bringing the two-day toll to 25, the Oslo media reported tonight.

Edmonton Bulletin

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER IN PUBLIC SERVICE

EDMONTON, ALBERTA—WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1942

Nazis Drive Deep Into Leningrad

THORSON HEADS EXCHEQUER COURT

Dominion Cabinet Is Reorganized

Three Quebec Members
Appointed by Premier
To Government Posts

By C. R. BLACKBURN

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Prime Minister Mackenzie King last night announced a large-scale cabinet reorganization, bringing three Quebec representatives into the government and sending War Services Minister Thorson to the presidency of the Exchequer Court of Canada.

Mr. King announced that the following would be sworn into the cabinet Wednesday noon:

1—Maj.-Gen. L. R. LaFleche, associate deputy minister of National War Services, as minister of National War Services.

2—Ernest Bertrand, Liberal member of parliament for Montreal Laurier, as Minister of Fisheries.

3—Alphonse Poirier, Liberal member for Hull, as Minister of Public Works.

Michaud Resigns Fisheries Portfolio

At the same time Mr.-King announced that Fisheries Minister Michaud has resigned that portfolio to become Minister of Transport.

New Changes
Give Cabinet
20 Members

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.—(CP)—With three new men brought into the cabinet—increasing its numerical strength by two—Prime Minister Mackenzie King's ministry now has 20 members, including the prime minister and Senator J. H. King of British Columbia, government leader in the upper house and minister without portfolio.

With the swearing in today of the new ministers announced last night, the reorganization by provinces in the ministry will be:

Prince Edward Island — Defence Minister Ralston, Prince consort.

Nova Scotia — Finance Minister Mackenzie King, Prime Minister.

New Brunswick — Transport Minister Michaud, Resigning.

Quebec — Air Minister Power, Quebec; Justice Minister St. Laurent, Quebec; East, Fisheries Minister Bertrand, Montreal; War Services Minister LaFleche, no seat; Public Works Minister Fournier, Hull.

Ontario — Nations Minister Howe, Port Arthur; State Secretary McLarty, Essex West; Postmaster General Mulock, York North; Revenue Minister Gibson, Hamilton West; Navy Minister Macdonald, Kingston City; Labor Minister Mitchell, Wetland.

Manitoba — Resources Minister Cregar, Churchill.

Saskatchewan — Prime Minister Mackenzie King, Prince Albert; Agriculture Minister Gardiner, Melville.

Alberta — Trade Minister Macklin, Edmonton West.

Western Canada — Penalties Minister Macdonald, Vancouver Centre; Senate Leader King, minister without portfolio.

Three City Airmen
Missing in Action

Three city airmen are reported missing after air operations against the enemy, according to a R.C.A.F. casualty list.

They are:

P.O. Melvin Florin Johnson, whose mother, Mrs. P. O. Johnson resides at 1745 95 St.

Pt. Sgt. Edmund William John Wilson, whose wife lives at 961 106 St.

Sgt. Peter Karl Zayarsky, whose father, Wasek Zayarsky lives at 9537 106A Ave.

"CLEAN-UP" ORDERED
Nazis Execute Ten in Norway
As Rebellion Spirit Spreads

By JOHN A. PARRIS

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(BUP)—Ten prominent Norwegians have died before a firing squad and hundreds are under arrest in the beginning of a ruthless German drive to suppress and other patriot activities spreading through Norway, Stockholm reported today.

One of the Norwegians was believed to be a patriot who had joined the Quisling traitor organization in order to do more effectively, as the German-occupied Oslo said, "a gauleiter, or district leader."

Others executed within a few hours of the imposition of a state of emergency, an invasion alert and a curfew in a wide area of the coast around Trondheim included two lawyers, an architect, a theatrical manager, an editor, an engineer, a banker, a ship broker and a business man.

The patriot mentioned as a gauleiter and also a captain presumably of the Norwegian army, was charged with "obscure" industrial organizations supplying the Norwegian people.

COMMANDOS FIND:
All Non-Native Males of Channel
Islands Are Deported to Germany

R.A.F. Builds Strength For Strong Raids

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(BUP)—British air commander today said that the Royal Air Force is striving to build its strength to a point where it can conduct raids two or three times as heavy as last night's strong attack on Osnabrueck, German communications centre.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

He said the R.A.F. is steadily building up the weight of its attacks on Germany.

hours of the imposition of a state of emergency, an invasion alert and a curfew in a wide area of the coast around Trondheim included two lawyers, an architect, a theatrical manager, an editor, an engineer, a banker, a ship broker and a business man.

The patriot mentioned as a gauleiter and also a captain presumably of the Norwegian army, was charged with "obscure" industrial organizations supplying the Norwegian people.

There were increasing indications that the Germans were worried over the continued spread of sabotage in Norway and there were reports in Stockholm that it has been aimed both at factories in the Trondheim area and the vitally important railroad running from Trondheim to the north which is used for supplying north Norway German garrisons.

Josef Terboven, German overlord of Norway, arrived at Trondheim last night and at once warned Norwegians that the time has come for the Germans to take "severe counter measures" and that a difficult time was ahead for Norwegians, "even those who are innocent."

Continued on Page 2, Col. 5.

R.A.F. Force
Makes Attack
On Osnabrueck

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(CP)—A strong force of R.A.F. bombers made a concentrated attack last night on the German industrial and railway town of Osnabrueck, the ministry said today. "Six of our aircraft are missing," the air ministry said.

It is understood that at least four Canadian squadrons were in the raiding force.

Osnabrueck, a Hanover province town, was hit by British bombers Aug. 17.

The raid was the second upon the town in six nights.

The fourth night raid in six nights this month.

Long six planes indicated a force of about 120 bombers made the attack, under the normal five-per-cent casualty rate.

The operations followed daylight solo attacks upon points in western Germany by British new Mosquito bombers and a German night bomber force.

These swift craft which fired a factory and a power station near Mergede, the Netherlands.

R.A.F. fighters on offensive patrol were reported to have set fire to a German minecutter off the French coast and caused it to run aground.

8 Persons Die
In Epidemic at Telegraph Creek

TELEGRAPH CREEK, B.C., Oct. 7.—(CP)—A Leake, Canadian National Railways telegraph operator in this tiny northern British Columbia settlement, reported to-day eight persons had died in the last few days from a serious outbreak of an unidentified disease.

Leake said the disease "presumably is some type of influenza, but as there is no doctor or nurse here everyone is suffering and dying."

Telegraph Creek is 280 miles north of Prince Rupert, B.C., on the Skeena river. Most of its population of 150 are Indians.

Weather

Today and Thursday—Mostly cloudy and somewhat cooler, with scattered showers.
Sun rises Thursday 7:49. Sets 6:53. Light vehicles by 7:10.
Edmonton Temperatures—Tuesday, Maximum 60 below, Wednesday, Minimum, 43 above.

SINGLE COPY, 5 CENTS

Desperate
Huns Try to Hold Gains

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW, Oct. 7.—(AP)— Marshal Semenov Tishchenko's counter-drive between the Don and the Volga bit deeper today into the north flank of the German wedge into Stalingrad and Russian dispatches said the Germans were falling back desperately upon trench warfare in an attempt to halt the onslaught and save their positions.

At Stalingrad the Germans had held the new divisions, fresh from the march, into bitter street fighting against the Russian defenders who suffered heavy impact but surged back and held through the fourth day of siege.

Dispatches from the battlefield said that across the steepers north-western Stalingrad the offensive was firmly in Russian hands.

KILL 1200 RUMANIANS

One point along the line the Russians reported killing 1,200 Rumanian troops and capturing 100 prisoners.

The army newspaper Red Star said a German division developed as the Germans reached the depth of an industrial settlement, but heavy Soviet counter-attacks cleared much of the area. It said the fighting continued at night and new fighter planes flew to their aid.

The Germans were declared hurried from the streets, houses, gardens and orchards by guerrilla forces. Explosive and incendiary bombs caused considerable damage to houses of the settlement and many civilians were among the casualties.

Location of the settlement was not announced, but many Soviet factories in that area are several miles from the city. It is obvious that the workers' communities along the Volga, because no dispatches mentioned the river, were among the casualties.

The Germans were reported to have strong air forces in the area. Ivesta said Red Army anti-aircraft batteries accounted for 19 planes in one day.

Firming of Soviet lines in the central Caucasus apparently followed a withdrawal from one community in the Moudok area, a retreat announced at midnight.

Gleanings From
Today's Want Ads

(Turn to Pages 12 and 13)

PLEASANT environment, good pay, clean, kind attention, to conversation and interests. No experience necessary. Reply: Mrs. J. H. (Heading 12—Personal)

HOUSEKEEPER wanted for widow; to town, must be good cook, have references and be able to help with housework. Reply: Mrs. J. H. (Heading 12—Personal)

CLEAN white dress or suit. Apply: (Heading 12—Swaps)

RED-SUITING coats, suit 1-2 ladies. Apply: (Heading 12—Swaps)

ROOM and kitchen, upstairs, all conveniences. Reply: Mrs. J. H. (Heading 12—Rooms)

ROOM suite, under, suburban, gas and water. Reply: Mrs. J. H. (Heading 12—Rooms)

Deaths Recorded Today

Charles Dockstader.
Robert MacLean.
Hans Andrew Simonson.

Preview and Review Of Sport

By Hal Dean
Sports Editor of The Edmonton Bulletin

MAPLE LEAFS bounded right back into the junior football playoff scramble by virtue of their victory over No. 3 "M" Depot last night. It was either a win or curtains for the blue and whites and they came through.

Only one game now remains in the regular schedule, the R.C.A.F. being billed to take on the league-leading E.A.C. aggregation next Friday and in the event of the latter emerging on top the other two clubs will have a joint claim for the second playoff berth. Starting time for Friday has been chosen to be 8 p.m.

Should the Airman knock over Paul Kirk's squad, the Maple Leafs will be the final series with commence usual Monday night. In the event of the E.A.C. winning on Friday, the Thanksgiving Day game will be between P.O. John Jack's Jamieson's Airman and the Leafs for the right to enter the final playoff.

LEAFS LOOT BETTER

THE receiving and running back of punts was particularly good last night, there being only one in the entire evening in the handling of the opposition's kicks. Punters in the line were also at a minimum, two by the Airman being really good, moving the yardage in the first two games.

The Maple Leaf board of strategy—Ken McAuley, Bill Persek and A. Tercier trotted out the best looking team they have possessed since the first two games.

The boys certainly showed more of the old fire with Oyspukh running up at one of the best finds of the year. This boy has been showing great improvement every time out, but last night he was really glowing through and was the outstanding ground game on the field.

Dutchak has been doing a great part of the heavy work in the last few games, but last night he had plenty of help from his team-mates with Oyspukh moving the yard sticks six times, three of them coming on successful plays in the second period drive of the Leafs.

Pros Hand Over $17,376

C.A.H.A. Registrations Show 50 Per Cent. Decline

FORT WILLIAM, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Frank Sargent, president of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, said here that since the outbreak of war the number of C.A.H.A. registered players dropped from 28,000 to 13,000 last season and prospects are for a further reduction of 500.

Sargent told the annual meeting of the Thunder Bay Amateur Hockey Association Monday night that the C.A.H.A. had been asked by the Dominion government to carry on with hockey in the interest of public morale.

"At that time we had conferred with war services ministry and there seemed no prospect of 19-year-olds being called up," he said. "But now it looks otherwise and I don't know just what effect this will have on the game."

"The Dominion government recently announced the call-up of 19-year-olds."

He said that receipts from the National League for junior players taken up by minor and major leagues last season totalled $17,376 and had been distributed to the clubs instrumental in bringing the players along.

Baker Explains

Rowe's Crack-Up

Detroit, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Baker of the Detroit Tigers gave the following explanation for the early crack-up of Leonard Rowe.

"With his build and ability, the Schoolboy should have seen many more years in the majors, and Manager Baker contends he would have only for one thing.

"The Schoolboy was over-developed in his youth," asserts Baker. "He was good at too many sports when he was little older than a grammar school boy. In addition to baseball, he played football, was a star at track and field, a fine boxer and golfer."

"He was had all over when you stuck your thumb against his neck or shoulders it was like feeling a board."

"He has the elongated type of muscles that should have been

SEMI-FINAL PLAYOFF NOW POSSIBILITY

Maple Leafs Down R.C.A.F. Squad 15-12.

PAGE SIX

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1942

Of Diz Goes To Work

GREAT PLAY BY KLESKO
BOB JACKSON, one of the best guards in the league, was also in there pitching, and so was Art Gilmore and Jerry Van Deelen's loss to Gilmore for the first touch-down was a beauty.

Gordon Retallick as usual was outstanding for the Airman. This boy kicks well, uses good judgment in handling the play, catches almost faultlessly in every game and is one of the top men in the league. Ken Horton was also good last night and of course has been in the spotlight as a ball carrier ever since the start of the season.

Russ Klecko put the Airman right back on even terms with his 35-yard run. It was a honey and only Freddie Smith's of last week was better. Klesko, a member of the Maple Leafs for the two previous years and with that team until just over a week ago did every time he got the ball, last night.

PERTE STEVENS
"MAKES DEBUT"
PETE DUNLOUGH came up with one of the oldest plays of the game when he hit the gookout when attempting a placement in the second quarter. It was a tough break for the Leafs but they managed to get the ball back.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Louisa Jerome Hanna Dean was not scheduled to broadcast the World Series and the dulcet tones of New York announcers sounded mighty strange in the Missouri valley.

Says Listeners and Language

Dizzy Might Have Improved
World Series Broadcasting
By BURTON BENJAMIN

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 7.—(AP)—The world's most famous baseball broadcaster, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Dean, who has been heard on the radio for more than 20 years, said last night that he was not at all sure that he was doing his job as well as he could.

Russ Klecko

Goes Over on 55-Yard Run

Showing decidedly more drive in their attack than in recent games, Maple Leafs defeated No. 3 "M" Depot at Clarke Stadium on Tuesday night to preserve intact their chances for a berth in the Edmonton Junior Rugby League playoffs.

Just after "Dutch" Van Deelen had thrown a 25-yard pass to Art Gilmore for the first touch-down and which Pete Danilowich converted, Russ Klecko broke away for a 55-yard run to make a major score for the Airman.

It was the most spectacular play of the night and Gordon Retallick picked up the extra point for the Leafs.

A fumble late in the first quarter gave the blue and whites their second touch-down and as it was also converted the lead proved too much for the Airman to overcome. They did get within easy scoring position on two occasions, but failed in trying for a placement, they elected to take a punt.

The Leafs scored on their extra two points and each time a fumble cost them possession.

The R.C.A.F. made their best drive in the second quarter when they had started sooner might easily have overcome the lead. Finding it hard to make progress against the Leaf line, they resorted to passing with Roy McKeay, who made two slick out of the line and laying the foundation for a drive.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

When the Airman kicked off, they picked up 11 first downs in the first two quarters, four of them coming in succession in the second quarter.

Junior Hi League

Eastwood and Victoria Easily Win Grid Contests

Putting on a dazzling display of all round power, Eastwood Juniors crushed Westgren under a 38-12 count in a high school football game on Tuesday. In another contest Victoria scored 21-0.

Playing at home, Eastwood simply was bursting with speed and power. They were paced by a couple of nifty backs in Don Baker and Hank Heron, each of whom accounted for three major scores.

The West Enders had some consolation in that they opened the scoring in the first quarter as Graham Cragg accounted for a score. This lead was quickly erased however as Heron picked up a loose ball and raced over the line.

The winners boosted their lead in the second frame on the strength of a pair of tallies. Don Sutherland accounted for the first one and it was converted by Baker. Then Baker tallied on a reverse play from the looser.

The winners continued their savage pace after half time and Baker accounted for another two points as he planned over center.

Graham Cragg sandwiched one in for Westgren as he raced 30 yards to the goal line. Eastwood came right back however and the starry Heron once again was rewarded for chalking up a score.

The last quarter was a rerun of the previous ones. Baker kicked his third touch-down and converted by Doug Lettich. Ed Edmondson scored for losers when he kicked a kick and then raced over the left side for a tally.

The winners wound up their exciting scoring activities for the afternoon with Heron once again causing the trick. It was converted by Lettich.

Eastwood—Bob Mitchell, Murray Smith, Doug Lettich, Don Sutherland, Bill McKeay, Hank Heron, Hubert Vance, Bert Pringle, Don Baker, Art Gilmore.

Victoria—Alon Knight, Bob Aiken, Bill Fallow, Calvin Abbott, Bill Nuttall, Chris McLeod, Graham Cragg, Glen Barker, Ed Edmondson, Phil McLaughlin, Ned Perry.

Officials—Ken Lucas and Dave Ellis.

Hollers Murder
CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Kehring says a "Union" leader better doesn't think twice about it when he is dusted. But in the American asserts the manager of the Reds, when a ball is thrown close to a good hitter's head he calls it a conspiracy.

TICKETS AVAILABLE AT
• Mike's New Stand
• Johnson's Walkers
• Woodward Ltd.
• "Boy" Clear Counter
• Western Canada News

HAVE A HILARIOUS HOLIDAY
AT THE TIN LIZZIE RACES
Sponsored by Lions' Club and Junior Chamber of Commerce

MEET
for
Corps of Military Staff Clerks

This branch of the Army has vacancies for MALE CLERKS with the following qualifications:

STENOGRAPHERS
Shorthand - - - 60 to 80 wpm
Typing - - - 25 to 50 wpm
Category - - - "A" preferred
Ages - - - 18½ to 45 yrs.

Exceptional opportunity for advancement coupled with TRADE PAY on qualification makes this a very desirable unit.

SEE - WRITE - WIRE
your nearest recruiting office for particulars.

IN EDMONTON
THE RECRUITING OFFICE
Is Conveniently Located Across From Eaton's At
101 STREET and 102 AVENUE

Hospitality

160 13.02
25¢ 3.05
40¢ 4.15

THIS ADVERTISEMENT IS NOT INSERTED BY THE ALBERTA LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD OR BY THE GOVERNMENT OF THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA.

Toronto Leafs

Buy Mel Hill

TORONTO, Oct. 7.—(CP)—Coach Hal Day of Toronto Maple Leafs Tuesday announced the purchase of Mel Hill, right winger from Brooklyn Americans in a straight cash transaction. The amount involved was not announced.

Hill's record last season with the Americans was 16 goals and 23 assists. He played in all but one game of the regular schedule. He was one of the Americans' players who was up for sale when the team's franchise was suspended for the coming season.

"It's our newest blackout model. You press the top and it drops like a window shade."

Blackout Is Planned For Sunday Oct. 18, with Air Raid Alert Oct. 25

A blackout in the city of Edmonton will be held Sunday night, Oct. 18, after which the third Victory Loan drive will get under way. The goal set for this drive is $750,000,000 for the entire Dominion. ♦

City Visitor

A DIFFERENCE

Officials have stated that this blackout will be handled differently than that of last Feb. 15. Pedestrians will be allowed on the street for observation, providing they remain stationary. They will be urged to smoke or to have lights of any kind.

Traffic rules as set out on page 1.

who was a visitor at the Legislative Buildings Wednesday on constituency business.

will be in effect, but all cars must keep off the main thoroughfares.

"The previous blackout was meant to test our eyes of communication," Capt. Huff said. "And we feel we have learned many val-

Johnstone Walker Limited
Store Hours: 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Phone 25161—Ask for Dept.

TWO DAYS' SALE
GLOVES
Cape . . . Suede . . . Kid
Thursday and Friday

Factory clearance totalling 212 pairs
. . . bought at a sweeping price-reduction and passed on to you at a corresponding

Smart, straight pull-ons—some with fancy trimming touches . . . others with fancy stitching. Fine capeskin, suede and French kid. Sizes 5½ to 7.

On Sale Thursday and Friday

Personal Shopping Only—All Sales Final

'Ayers' All Wool Blankets
New Pastel Shades
At $10 to 14.50

Lovely new Blankets that will serve the double purpose of a THROW or under covering. Woven from fine all wool yarns with nice soft nappy finish.

Shown in pastel shades of green, blue, gold, rose.

yellow—also scarlet. Singly whipped. Sizes 64x84 to 72x90 inches. Priced at 10.00 to 14.50

Two Steps Closer to Autumn Smartness

When assembling your new wardrobe don't lose sight of the fact that autumn smartness begins afoot!

"A" dressy pump of black and jungle brown trimmed with patent and pin-head perforations. Sizes 4 1/2 to 10. Different widths.

6.95

"B" medium low heel afternoon pumps of black or brown, crushed kid. Sizes 4½ to 10. Different widths. Priced at .... 6.95

Johnstone Walker
Est. Limited 1886

_____

Prompt First Aid Given Battered Ships In Canadian Naval Repair Yards Wounded Fighting And Cargo Vessels Are Overhauled From Stem To Stern

To alleviate the risk of holding ships in the British Isles for maintenance and repair, Canada is today playing a major role in overhauling naval and cargo ships of the United Nations. In the above picture, a steam shovel is seen digging to make space for additional dry docks while, in the background, repaired vessels wait for the hour when they will again be called for duty at sea.

In naval dockyards many types of stores are housed, ammunition and equipment for Canada's ships of war. The worker in this photo is applying a coating of grease to torpedo tail assemblies. Mechanism in tail sets depth of its course.

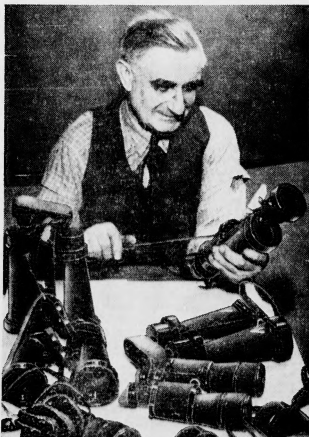

They know the ropes. Workmen splicing heavy hauser in the sail loft of naval yards. Rope is made from manilla hemp formerly brought in from the far east.

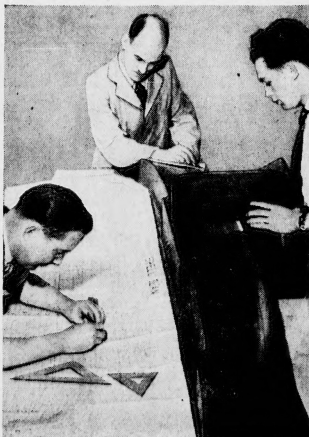

Determined to answer the challenge contained in the slogan over the shipyard gate (ABOVE), the skilled craftsmen employed in the armament department of the

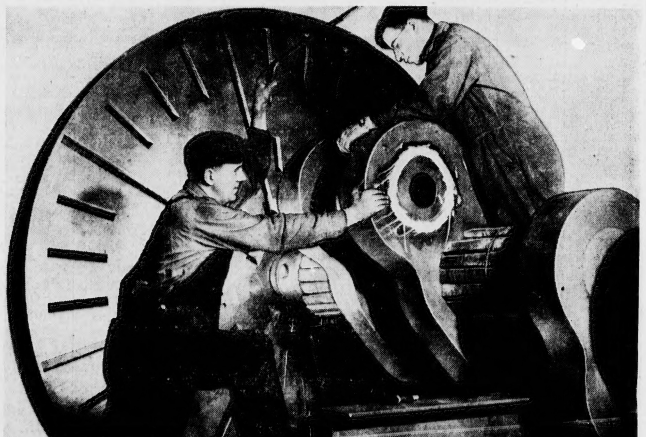

With his country under Nazi boots, this Norwegian machinist in the engineering department works for freedom of his people, grimly intent on his task.

Making eyes peer to farther horizons to detect Nazi prowlers is the job of these trusty binoculars. All kinds of naval instruments are checked and repaired.

Building of Canada's fast, up-to-the-minute, hard hitting Tribal destroyers is a colossal undertaking. Naval engineers are shown planning the ship's shell.

Machinists repairing a corvette engine crankshaft. Millions of dollars have been spent in Canada on wartime ship repair facilities, under the program administered by the Controller of Ship Repairs and Salvage of the Department of Munitions and Supply, and by the Naval Construction Branch of the R.C.N.

Photos by Harry Rowed for Wartime Information Board.

"Of Brightness Gone"

By Holly Watterson

CHAPTER XVI

SHE moved slowly, heavily, as though unseen weights were dragging at her limbs. Her mind felt heavy, too, and numb. She thought, this isn't really happening. It can't be. It's just a horrible dream. . . .

With exaggerated care she closed the door behind her. Closing Martin inside, herself outside. Other doors, in their brief time together, had closed between them, but never like this. Oh, never like this, separating them forever. . . .

When she was part way down the stairs she saw the street door open and Peter come in. She could not know that in that dingy hallway she was to Peter everything love, a flower springing from mud, the first crocus after winter. He tried to tell her something of love, but she knew all along. . . .

He said, "You look like a nancy in that dress. It's the same almost purple as your eyes. You look like a pansy from my grandmother's garden." . . .

But if he had managed to keep his tone light, his kind young face turned upward to her was white, and grim. And she thought, he knows. He knows all along. . . .

That date with them tonight he'd broken, that "emergency call" that had taken him away so that she and Martin might have the apartment alone, was to be give Martin a chance to tell her. . . .

She was a girl who had thrown herself at a man who didn't want her, who didn't want her. And Peter knew. In spite of her numbness, of this dead feeling inside her, she knew. . . .

Hold Everything

They had given over all presence of things being as usual. Leaving her at her hotel Peter said, "I'm sorry, but I have to go. I'll take you home." . . .

Gently. As though she were ill. She thought, or recently believed. Pitying her. "No," she said stiffly. "I don't want to." . . .

He thought it wiser not to press the point. "I must take you home," he said. "You'll let me see you?" . . .

She had forgotten that Peter didn't know that bit bitterness. She said, dully, "You could avoid seeing me if you tried. Because I'm going to Good Samaritan." . . .

She saw him wince in sympathy. Faith Harborthorne was with Martin at the moment. Her mother was there, too, and Peter thought that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

white of her face, her rouged mouth a crimson wound. No need trying to put on a show for Peter, she was thinking, and even while she thought, if she heard herself trying to fool him into believing things were all right, she murmured something carefully about Martin having a big head as well as a big day to look forward to tomorrow, and she had advised her for him and a last for herself. . . .

She had forgotten the remark the Duke of Gates, who had come to mock her. They stood along, too, sometimes, sedately alongside, sometimes capping up and down. "Dumb," Miss Maher liked severely, "very dumb" and Gates roared triumphantly in a weird way that set Peter for their steps. . . .

"Never chase a man, never chase a man, never chase a man," he started to run, in a hysterical effort to get away from them, and she tripped and would have fallen but for Peter's hand under her elbow, steadying her. . . .

Back at Merrymount, planning in her transfer, she had thought, "I don't think I'll be able to see Martin often if it will still be something just to be his footstep along a corridor." . . .

Well, she'd still be hearing them, only now they were something from which to shrink. And she knew, suddenly, that she would shrink from Peter as well, because she would be bound up for her with the pain and humiliation of this. . . .

They had given over all presence of things being as usual. Leaving her at her hotel Peter said, "I'm sorry, but I have to go. I'll take you home." . . .

Gently. As though she were ill. She thought, or recently believed. Pitying her. "No," she said stiffly. "I don't want to." . . .

He thought it wiser not to press the point. "I must take you home," he said. "You'll let me see you?" . . .

She had forgotten that Peter didn't know that bit bitterness. She said, dully, "You could avoid seeing me if you tried. Because I'm going to Good Samaritan." . . .

She saw him wince in sympathy. Faith Harborthorne was with Martin at the moment. Her mother was there, too, and Peter thought that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

that makes the thing official. I imagine. . . .

He was not surprised. He had done nothing about looking for a room apart from Martin, much as he had felt like doing it with several weeks at most to go before graduation it would have been, he decided, a childish thing to do. . . .

With these last days so full and with Martin out evenings it was seldom necessary for them to see each other. But on the few occasions when that couldn't be avoided, Martin's attitude had been one of hostile defiance. Peter had rather expected this gesture. . . .

That was the reason he had alternated between hoping that Can- dace would come, and fearing that she might. He watched her, composed and apparently serene, talking and laughing with his father, and he thought, perhaps, she was not proud that she had done it, but he thought, because she would have to see this girl, she was bound to be forced to see her with Martin sometime, and it was better that the hurtful things should happen all at once, in the beginning while the wound was open anyway. . . .

But there are limits to courage, there ought to be limits to the things one should be forced to endure, and when Faith Harborthorne recognized him and, smilingly, started toward him, he couldn't turn his back on her. . . .

The girl halted, certain that it couldn't turn out as badly as this, and yet uncertain how to proceed, while she stood hesitating, looking at Faith and Bruce each by an elbow and moved off with them into the hall. . . .

Candace was aware that Peter had moved them on, to get her out of the vicinity of Martin and the girl she knew must be Faith Harborthorne, and with a part of her mind that could still feel she was grateful for the consideration that had prompted it. . . .

But it did no good, if only he knew it. Because even when they were not in her line of vision she saw them, as though they had been engraved on her eyeballs. Martin's dark good looks a foil for the girl's fairness and she in turn a stimulus for him. . . .

She was glad that she had seen them together, she told herself. Glad, because a weak side of her felt that even a scheming, faulty Martin was better than no Martin at all had clung to the thought that he had meant what he said, that he had come back and that he would be honest and just would be almost as they had been before. She had felt that she couldn't be sure until he actually saw them together. . . .

She knew that he would go through with it. She was sick of her own despair she could still pity the girl at his side. Because she had seen his face when he was forgetting to be gay, forgetting to laugh, and she knew that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

that makes the thing official. I imagine. . . .

He was not surprised. He had done nothing about looking for a room apart from Martin, much as he had felt like doing it with several weeks at most to go before graduation it would have been, he decided, a childish thing to do. . . .

With these last days so full and with Martin out evenings it was seldom necessary for them to see each other. But on the few occasions when that couldn't be avoided, Martin's attitude had been one of hostile defiance. Peter had rather expected this gesture. . . .

That was the reason he had alternated between hoping that Can- dace would come, and fearing that she might. He watched her, composed and apparently serene, talking and laughing with his father, and he thought, perhaps, she was not proud that she had done it, but he thought, because she would have to see this girl, she was bound to be forced to see her with Martin sometime, and it was better that the hurtful things should happen all at once, in the beginning while the wound was open anyway. . . .

But there are limits to courage, there ought to be limits to the things one should be forced to endure, and when Faith Harborthorne recognized him and, smilingly, started toward him, he couldn't turn his back on her. . . .

The girl halted, certain that it couldn't turn out as badly as this, and yet uncertain how to proceed, while she stood hesitating, looking at Faith and Bruce each by an elbow and moved off with them into the hall. . . .

Candace was aware that Peter had moved them on, to get her out of the vicinity of Martin and the girl she knew must be Faith Harborthorne, and with a part of her mind that could still feel she was grateful for the consideration that had prompted it. . . .

But it did no good, if only he knew it. Because even when they were not in her line of vision she saw them, as though they had been engraved on her eyeballs. Martin's dark good looks a foil for the girl's fairness and she in turn a stimulus for him. . . .

She was glad that she had seen them together, she told herself. Glad, because a weak side of her felt that even a scheming, faulty Martin was better than no Martin at all had clung to the thought that he had meant what he said, that he had come back and that he would be honest and just would be almost as they had been before. She had felt that she couldn't be sure until he actually saw them together. . . .

She knew that he would go through with it. She was sick of her own despair she could still pity the girl at his side. Because she had seen his face when he was forgetting to be gay, forgetting to laugh, and she knew that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

that makes the thing official. I imagine. . . .

He was not surprised. He had done nothing about looking for a room apart from Martin, much as he had felt like doing it with several weeks at most to go before graduation it would have been, he decided, a childish thing to do. . . .

With these last days so full and with Martin out evenings it was seldom necessary for them to see each other. But on the few occasions when that couldn't be avoided, Martin's attitude had been one of hostile defiance. Peter had rather expected this gesture. . . .

That was the reason he had alternated between hoping that Can- dace would come, and fearing that she might. He watched her, composed and apparently serene, talking and laughing with his father, and he thought, perhaps, she was not proud that she had done it, but he thought, because she would have to see this girl, she was bound to be forced to see her with Martin sometime, and it was better that the hurtful things should happen all at once, in the beginning while the wound was open anyway. . . .

But there are limits to courage, there ought to be limits to the things one should be forced to endure, and when Faith Harborthorne recognized him and, smilingly, started toward him, he couldn't turn his back on her. . . .

The girl halted, certain that it couldn't turn out as badly as this, and yet uncertain how to proceed, while she stood hesitating, looking at Faith and Bruce each by an elbow and moved off with them into the hall. . . .

Candace was aware that Peter had moved them on, to get her out of the vicinity of Martin and the girl she knew must be Faith Harborthorne, and with a part of her mind that could still feel she was grateful for the consideration that had prompted it. . . .

But it did no good, if only he knew it. Because even when they were not in her line of vision she saw them, as though they had been engraved on her eyeballs. Martin's dark good looks a foil for the girl's fairness and she in turn a stimulus for him. . . .

She was glad that she had seen them together, she told herself. Glad, because a weak side of her felt that even a scheming, faulty Martin was better than no Martin at all had clung to the thought that he had meant what he said, that he had come back and that he would be honest and just would be almost as they had been before. She had felt that she couldn't be sure until he actually saw them together. . . .

She knew that he would go through with it. She was sick of her own despair she could still pity the girl at his side. Because she had seen his face when he was forgetting to be gay, forgetting to laugh, and she knew that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

that makes the thing official. I imagine. . . .

He was not surprised. He had done nothing about looking for a room apart from Martin, much as he had felt like doing it with several weeks at most to go before graduation it would have been, he decided, a childish thing to do. . . .

With these last days so full and with Martin out evenings it was seldom necessary for them to see each other. But on the few occasions when that couldn't be avoided, Martin's attitude had been one of hostile defiance. Peter had rather expected this gesture. . . .

That was the reason he had alternated between hoping that Can- dace would come, and fearing that she might. He watched her, composed and apparently serene, talking and laughing with his father, and he thought, perhaps, she was not proud that she had done it, but he thought, because she would have to see this girl, she was bound to be forced to see her with Martin sometime, and it was better that the hurtful things should happen all at once, in the beginning while the wound was open anyway. . . .

But there are limits to courage, there ought to be limits to the things one should be forced to endure, and when Faith Harborthorne recognized him and, smilingly, started toward him, he couldn't turn his back on her. . . .

The girl halted, certain that it couldn't turn out as badly as this, and yet uncertain how to proceed, while she stood hesitating, looking at Faith and Bruce each by an elbow and moved off with them into the hall. . . .

Candace was aware that Peter had moved them on, to get her out of the vicinity of Martin and the girl she knew must be Faith Harborthorne, and with a part of her mind that could still feel she was grateful for the consideration that had prompted it. . . .

But it did no good, if only he knew it. Because even when they were not in her line of vision she saw them, as though they had been engraved on her eyeballs. Martin's dark good looks a foil for the girl's fairness and she in turn a stimulus for him. . . .

She was glad that she had seen them together, she told herself. Glad, because a weak side of her felt that even a scheming, faulty Martin was better than no Martin at all had clung to the thought that he had meant what he said, that he had come back and that he would be honest and just would be almost as they had been before. She had felt that she couldn't be sure until he actually saw them together. . . .

She knew that he would go through with it. She was sick of her own despair she could still pity the girl at his side. Because she had seen his face when he was forgetting to be gay, forgetting to laugh, and she knew that Martin wasn't happy either. . . .

(To Be Continued)

Laff-A-Day

GROCERY

"Sh-h, dear. What if I did take the wrong carage? This one has rubber tires!"

Curious World

—By William Ferguson

HOW WRONG THEY WERE!

EARLY WRITERS AND THE WILD GAMES OF AMERICA WOULD REED TO THE WHOLE WORLD FOR ETERNITY!

THE KNEE, AND NOT THE ANKLE, IS THE MOST VULNERABLE SPOT IN THE MODERN ATHLETE.

WHEN THE BOYS GET GALLANT, THE GIRLS GET BOLD. SHE SAYS A PETERSON, AND SHE SAYS A PETERSON.

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

THE MADIGAN GANG ROBBED OLD JOES STORE! IM GOING TO ROBBE THE BANK AND GET THE CASH CLEAN!

PLEASE DON'T YOU LOW DOWN COMMANDER! HOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

BESIDES—HE'S A JUNIOR COMMANDER! NOW DO YOU WANT TO GIVE THE IMPRESSION THAT THERE ARE A BUNCH OF HOODLUMS?

THE MANSEER BRIDGE BLOWN UP?

ACROSS MILES AND UP THE SIDE OF THE STRICKEN BRIDGE FLASHES THE INCREDIBLE PLANE OF STEEL

GOT TO LOVE TERRITORY

KEEP UP THERE!

